U/R

SUBJECT: Liaison with 7228 Special Activities Squadron on UJDREADFUL

1. Subsequent to UJDREADFUL U/R dated 19 September 1955, [] suggested that [] [], rather than [] [] should make the necessary contact to Subject unit. In this connection [] mentioned that in [] absence a cable from COS had not only authorized this liaison but had requested that it be undertaken. Although the contact had not been established, the cable reference, FRAN-0638, was on file.

2. On 20 September 1955 [] [] met Art Myer and Major Hanlon in the 7228 office. [] [] cited our instructions to establish the liaison and stated it was only being done now as [] [] had just returned from the USA. Myer said they had not yet found time to make contact locally either, so they had not wondered where we were or anything.

3. I gave them a briefing on the service we could render on name traces, and they agreed that they should be put on the courier schedule. They were wary about having our courier come to their office for fear ZIPPER might be tailing him. I said our courier was careful, but anyway he came at irregular times, so as not to establish a pattern, and in any case came directly to CIC Region IV, which is in an adjoining building. They wanted to wait until Zendembisky (their CO, and former MOS member, who was on a short trip) returned to make a decision.

4. I then explained the nature of our interest in UJDREADFUL, stating that it was a long-standing thorn in our side, and we needed in the worst way to get it cleared up, but that the only people on our staff who could interview FISCHER were known personally to UJDREADFUL, so that for fear of a provocation in which FISCHER would pass back a physical description to UJDREADFUL, we could not afford to make the contact.

5. I specifically requested that they have Klein go back to FISCHER as though he had at long last received clearance for an operation and ask for more details from the point of view that before he went further, he wanted some kind of proof that UJDREADFUL had actually travelled in the Satellites and might do so again in the future.

6. They agreed in principal to do the job for us; stated that a definite decision depended, however, on Zendembisky, and that they would arrange a meeting for me with him before the end of the week. They asked whether we would want Klein to contact UJDREADFUL. I told them this would be too big a security risk for us to ask them to take, but that depending upon results of the first step, we might want them to arrange a meeting ostensibly between UJDREADFUL and Klein, at which someone else would appear, my idea being that the greatest possible shock effect upon ZIPPER would be for a combined FOB/ZIPPER delegation to keep such a meeting.
